Nestled in the heart of the glorious Norfolk countryside is The Lowes, a beautiful holiday spot in need of a dedicated play space. We had previously worked with the Kelling Estate team in 2021 so were delighted to be invited back to create a new adventure play area for their holiday guests to enjoy.

The brief was to create something to appeal to a broad age range and fit in with the stunning surrounding countryside. We designed a large climbing structure offering lots of physical challenges, to be set alongside a basket swing and simple but incredibly popular acrobat bars, the estates team provided their own bark surfacing.

The end result looks wonderful and was finished just in time for the 2023 holiday season!
